

Application of SORALS support for new oversea members of The Wood Carbonization Research Society

SORALS(Supporting Organization for Research of Agricultural and Life Sciences), that is the Non-Profit Organization in JAPAN, performs several activities to support innovative research projects.

As one of those services, SORALS provides financial aid for new oversea members of The Wood Carbonization Research Society (WCRS).

However, this aid is not applied to Institutional members.

When the organizer accepts your application, SORALS will pay your annual membership fee instead of you during 3 years.

Similarly, when you contribute manuscript to the editorial board of journal (Wood Carbonization Research) and your manuscript is accepted by the WCRS, SORALS will pay your contribution fees instead of you.

Please note that, however, the foreign researchers living in JAPAN are not intended for this aid. Neither is for Japanese living outside JAPAN.

If you wish to use this support, please apply following to the rules for application.
